

Court No. - 83

Case :- CRIMINAL MISC. BAIL APPLICATION No. - 17906 of 2021

Applicant :- Imran

Opposite Party :- State Of U.P

Counsel for Applicant :- Anwar Hussain

Counsel for Opposite Party :- G.A.,Rajesh Yadav

Hon'ble Saurabh Shyam Shamsbery,J.

1. Heard learned counsel for the applicant, Shri. Rajesh Yadav, learned counsel for the first informant and learned A.G.A. through video conferencing and perused the record.

2. The applicant has approached this Court by way of filing the present Criminal Misc. Bail Application seeking enlargement on bail in Case Crime No.30 of 2021, under Sections 452, 377 and 506 of I.P.C., Police Station-Ramgarh, District-Firozabad after rejection of his Bail Application vide order dated 19.3.2021 passed by learned Additional Sessions Judge, Court No.1, Firozabad.

3. Learned counsel for the applicant argued that the applicant is a married person having one daughter and he drives Taxi. Allegedly, the victim who is a transgender used to hire his taxi for the purpose of visiting places and the applicant has been falsely implicated in the present case to extract money from him. There are applications on behalf of the victim as well as from the side of wife of the applicant before the concerned court for lodging F.I.Rs. against each other which are still pending. It is further submitted that the present F.I.Rs. are counterblast to the said applications. The applicant has no other reported criminal antecedent and he is languishing in jail since 13.1.2021, there is no likelihood of early disposal of trial and the applicant undertakes that if enlarged on bail, he will never misuse his liberty and will co-operate in the trial.

4. Learned counsel for the first informant and the A.G.A. have vehemently opposed the bail application. They have relied upon the statement of the victim recorded under Section 164 Cr.P.C. to submit that the first informant was victimised and was indulged in sexual relationship forcefully. However, he has not disputed that initially for two years the applicant and the victim were in consensual relationship.

5. Law on bail is well settled that 'Bail is rule and jail is exception'. Bail should not be granted or rejected in a mechanical manner as it concerns liberty of a person. At the time of considering an application for bail, the Court must take into account certain factors such as existence of a prima facie case against the accused, gravity of the allegations, severity of punishment, position and status of the accused, likelihood of the accused fleeing from justice and repeating the offence, reasonable apprehension of tampering with the witnesses and obstructing the Courts as well as the criminal antecedents of the accused. It is also well settled that the Court while considering an application for bail must not go into deep into merits of the matter such as question of credibility and reliability of prosecution witnesses which can only be tested during the trial. Even ground of parity is one of the above mentioned aspects which are essentially required to be considered. It is also well settled that the grant or refusal of bail is entirely within the discretion of the judge hearing the matter and though that discretion is unfettered, it must be exercised judiciously and in a humane manner, compassionately and not in whimsical manner. The Court should record the reasons which have weighed with the court for the exercise of its discretionary power for an order granting or rejecting bail. Conditions for the grant of bail ought not to be so strict as to be incapable of compliance, thereby making the grant of bail illusory. The Court while granting bail in the cases involving sexual offence against a woman should not mandate bail conditions, which is/are against the mandate of "fair justice" to victim such as to make any form of compromise or marriage with the accused etc. and shall take into consideration the directions passed by Supreme Court in Aparna Bhat and others Vs. State of Madhya Pradesh and another, 2021 SCC Online SC 230, in this regard.

6. Considering the rival submission, material available on record, the period of detention already undergone, the unlikelihood of early conclusion of trial, absence of any convincing material to indicate the possibility of tampering with the evidence, relevant factors mentioned above, particularly that prima-facie the applicant and the victim were in consensual relationship for a period of two years and that there are applications for lodging F.I.Rs. against each other and further prima-facie there is a dispute for exchange of money and also considering that the applicant is in jail since 13.1.2021 and the prevailing situation due to Covid-19 Pandemic, a case of bail is made out.
